2. Defining the informal economy

Formality and informality can be conceptualised as opposite ends on a continuum with many intermediate cases existing between these ends

2. Defining the informal economy

South Africa Siyasebenza

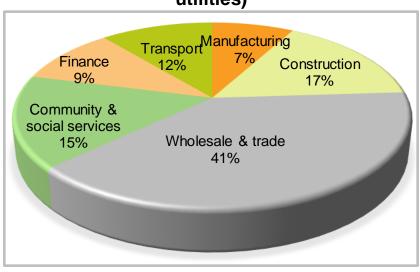

Informal employment makes up a significant proportion of all employment in developing countries – however, South Africa is an outlier

Central Africa		Eastern Africa
Angola	89,5	Comoros	84,6
Cameroon	79,0	Madagascar	83,8
Chad	75,8	Malawi	75.0
Congo	85,0	Rwanda	91,1
DRC	76,2	Tanzania	83,5
Southern Africa		Uganda	87,7
Botswana	55,1	Northern Africa
Namibia	61,1	Egypt	49,8
South Africa	34,0	Morocco	75,6
Zambia	71,5	Tunisia	53,5

3. Current informal economy support landscape

South Africa Siyasebenza

While the SMME Support Ecosystem in South Africa plays a crucial role in enabling the country's SMMEs, there are several opportunities to raise the bar (especially for informal enterprises)

Funding Environment

- Funding gap ≈ R516bn (Finfind, 2018),
- Perceived risk associated with SMMEs, including informal enterprises:
  - (1) Commercial lenders security-based lending, &
    - (2) Government strict eligibility criteria.
- Funding models: Lack of innovative funding solutions.

Enterprise Support Environment

- Lack of comprehensive sector specific support - direct government support tends to focus on infrastructure, training, and funding,
- Lack of basic as well as productivity enhancing infrastructure,
- · Lack of business systems,
- · Access to markets,
- · Lack of business support services.

Macro Factors (e.g. COVID-19, chronically slow economic growth)

ENABLING ENVIRONMENT

Policy-makers and Regulators

Research Organisations e.g. UJ, CSIR

Government Departments e.g. DSBD, DTI

- Legacy municipal by-laws and other regulations and practices,
- · Policy framework.

4. Reaching informal enterprises

South Africa Siyasebenza

Internationally, the development and support of "aggregators"/ intermediaries is a critical success factor - intermediaries enable reach and more holistic support

India's Self-Employed Women's Association (SEWA) is a trade union for women aimed at supporting women to obtain work security, income security, food security and social security (especially health and shelter). The association boasts more than 2 million members.

Through national associations of informal workers, a variety of support packages have been delivered including the Jua-Kali Voucher Programne, various loan schemes and the Mbao retirement and savings scheme delivered through M-Pesa and other financial institutions.

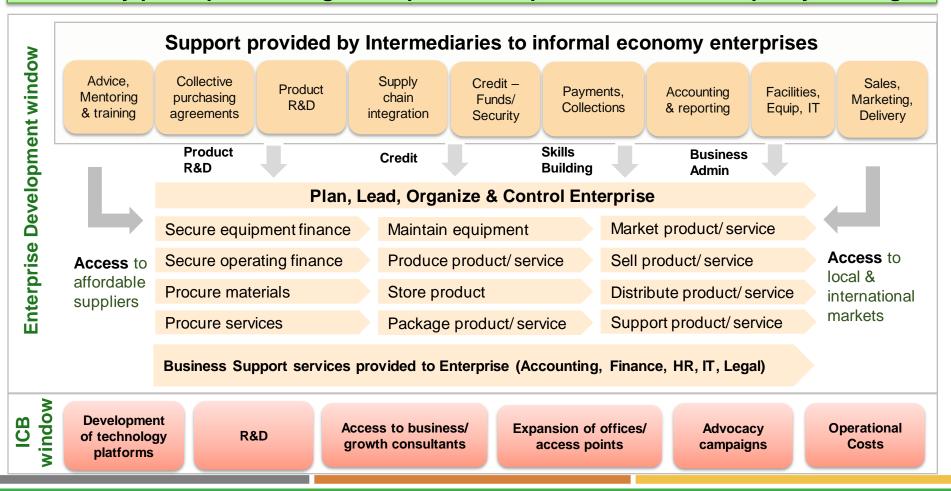

• A gap in South Africa's informal economy landscape is the absence of strong national level intermediaries that can reach a significant number of informal enterprises.

5. Headline Opportunity – reaching & supporting Informal economy participants

South Africa Siyasebenza

The JF delivery model can provide a platform for government to reach more informal economy participants through enterprise development institutional capacity building

5. Headline Opportunity – formalisation, graduation

South Africa Siyasebenza

The aim should be to improve livelihoods and grow employment/ earnings by providing adequate, innovative, tailor made packages of support which may include appropriate elements of formalization at different stages of the enterprise's growth journey

- Formalisation is typically conceived in terms of three broad areas:
  - o In terms of employment: i.e. shifting people out of informal selfemployment and wage employment into formal wage jobs. But.....

 Companies and Intellectual Property Commission (CIPC) and tax registration: All enterprises including those in the informal sector already pay VAT (value added tax) on inputs that they purchase from formal-sector firms. But ....

 Regulation, licensing and compliance requirements: Many municipal regulations and licensing requirements are necessary (e.g. those trading in food etc.). But ....

Current Informal Economy Challenges

Caroline Skinner

- The informal sector was disproportionately hard hit by lockdown.
- Women's job losses were greater in all types of employment.
- 'Recovery' slow men three times more likely to return to informal sector jobs than women.
- THE major current constraint is lack of demand.

Recent Jobs Fund Evaluation Results

Dr Jason Musyoka

The study concluded that:

- 1. There was 20% increase in average monthly turnover overall as opposed to only a 0.6% increase among non-client Spaza shops over this same period.
- Two thirds of supported Spaza shops were found to be implementing improved business practices, such as maintaining purchase and sales receipts, undertaking consistent stock management and maintaining separate personal and business accounts.
- 3. With reasonable increase in revenue, spaza shop owners begin to consider their business from a livelihood rather than survivalist premise.

Therefore:

- 4. South African spaza shop owners do show signs of growth, based on insertion into corporate value chains and PPP frameworks
- 5. Spaza shop owners have the potential to develop competitiveness through direct technology assistance, as our study demonstrated.

Key Policy Considerations

Dr Jason Musyoka

- The conceptualisation of the informal economy is a negation what it is not. This is a basic (and fundamental) challenge.
- 2. Current regulation framework is focused on direct generic assistance as a pathway for formalisation.
- 3. Different gradations of regulations should be considered. Targeted direct assistance as a pathway to growth (as opposed to direct assistance as a pathway to formalization is a more suitable framework for:
  - Shift from survivalist to livelihoods
  - Intergenerational sustainability of informal businesses.
- 4. Entrepreneurial training and competitive building is required.
- 5. Spaza shops should be organized into cooperatives as part of competitive building.
- Spaza shop owners should be provided with revenue enhancement technology training.
- 7. National performance system should be developed together with informal business owners This is critical for both growth and national accounting.
